Productive Investment Opportunities Database (BaPIP)

The Productive Investment Opportunities Database (BaPIP, for its acronym in Spanish) is an online portfolio of investment projects, representing a compilation of the diverse opportunities available to investors who want to participate in one of the most dynamic economies in the world.

Investments from US$1 million; in almost every productive sector; representing diverse forms, from knowledge exchange to joint ventures; throughout the country: BaPIP provides visitors with a unique, panoramic view of the investment opportunities in every productive sector throughout the country open to foreign and national investors alike.

Investors from around the world can view the opportunities via its website, <http://bapip.inversiones.gov.ar/en>, where they will find additional contact information if they identify an opportunity of interest.

BaPIP was created and implemented as a tool to match projects with investors interested in investing in Argentina. In addition, it marks Argentina's commitment to creating a gateway for national and international investors who want to be a part of this growing, dynamic economy.

We invite you to explore our website to:

- Find investment opportunities in Argentina.
- Contact the project owners.
- Close deals and build strategic partnerships.

"While most IPIs have some labor force data available, such as average salaries for all industries, a good inquiry response will contain thorough and reliable data on various levels of skilled labor in the specific sector. For GIPB 2012, Argentina's IPI provided a high-quality response on this topic, giving recently updated information on salaries for managers, skilled workers, and unskilled workers in various locations. It also included details on the most relevant laws, including those on social security and procedures for employing foreign workers."

GLOBAL INVESTMENT PROMOTION BEST PRACTICES
2012, WORLD BANK.

Investing in a project with a local partner ensures better economic, commercial and technical advantages. Local partners contribute bring to the partnership their know how of the target sector, local market, laws, logistics, distribution chain and contact networks, as well as a familiarity with the common local practices.

BaPIP gives you access to the investment opportunities available as well as access to the Investor Cooperation area of the Under-secretariat for Investment Development and Trade Promotion, available to provide you with the personalized professional assistance you need.
